What Is Guest Blogging What Is The Use

Hello,

My name is Jordann and I am inquiring about contributing an article to your site. I am looking to submit high quality content that would fit your site and readers. The posts would be non promotional, and strictly informational in nature. The article would be completely unique to your site and in addition to the content, I would also promote each article across the various social networks to generate social engagement and backlinks to the post. All I would ask is to be able to place up to 2 relevant dofollow links in either the content or author bio. There is no obligation on your part and you can have editorial control over the content we provide.

I am also continually searching for sites relevant to the articles I am working with. If you have any other websites I would love to take a look at them and let you know if I am able to use them.

If this is something we can work together on, please let me know and we can begin the process.

Thank you!
